Carillion installs advanced multi-screen communications system in Anglian Water's Control Centre.

Carillion Communications Ltd have strengthened their existing relationship with Anglian Water with the installation of 12 large format display (LFD) screens and a new control system into their prestigious call centre offices in Lincoln.

Anglian Water approached Carillion Communications

Anglian Water approached Carillion Communications as they wanted the ability to display different messages on the numerous screens within their operational management centre and call centre, relating to operational risk and customer satisfaction. They had the information but wanted it to be made visible to the whole department.

Carillion recommended the installation of the LFDs together with a Mondo Matrix System

The installation combined large format display screens together with a Mondo Matrix 16x16 System- a full-matrix scalable Cat5 switch platform that switches and distributes video, audio and serial signals from source to displays over distances of up to two thousand feet. This allows Anglian Water to communicate different messages on different LFD screens all controlled by the Mondo Matrix in their communications room.

There are 150 people in the operational management centre on a 24/7 shift pattern and the readily viewable information enables handovers to become smoother and quicker at shift changes.
